Who We Are

- Two Sullivan West High School Students
- Passionate about Finance, Business, and our community
- Educated through various means on personal finance, investments & securities, and other practical skills

Sam Lieberman, Senior

- “Understanding Your Money” Wharton Global Youth
- Career & Financial Management Class

Ethan Clark, Junior

- Leadership Program HOBY
- Common Sense Investing

What is Finlit?

- Peer-taught Financial Literacy Class
- Coursework Designed To Prepare Teens (13-17) for the Real World
 - Saving, Smart Spending, Credit & Debt, Banking Basics, Investment Basics, Planning for the Future

Our Mission

To provide educational resources, for free, that will prepare teens for their futures through a proper financial literacy education

Our Start

Recognized a growing disconnect between working teens and smart decisions related to personal finances

Attempts to provide a resource through different means (peer-lead) that would be more attractive than traditional convergent learning (lecture-style)

How It Works

- Relaxed discussion-styled
- Peer-taught
- Includes games, modern references, and encourages critical thinking
- 1 to 1.5 hours long

Our Future

- Website in development
- Grants to promote application and improve learning experience
- Potential universal course creation intended for course replication in other regions
- Potential adult course

Thank you!
